What are we going to do about our dilapidated side-walks this spring? The time has come when we ought to begin to brush up and pick up for summer. Our neighbors in other villages are already making improvements in sidewalks, streets, and upon the fences and premises. If we make the appearance | the same price for a heifer calf. of our village what it ought to be, there 18 much work to be done. Every man can do something towards beautifying and improving his own premises, and for it is a good thing for the boys, and means can be raised by a little effort to do the puclic work that is needed. We should not aspire to great things until we demonstrate a willingness to make such internal improvements as can be made with little outlay and effort. There are many places where trees ought to be set out, and many old fences that can be whitewashed if not painted

UNCLE SAMUEL'S STRONG- BOX.

The editor of the Bennington Banner has lately made a visit to the U. S. Sub Treasury at New York, and saw sights that made his own possessions look very insignificant indeed. He gives the following account of what he saw :

"Gen. George Ashley, chief of the Coin Division, accompanied us into the coin W. A. S | vault, and in amongst the limitless mass of precious metals under his supervision and charge. The hearded millions committed to the special care of Gen. Ashley are lodged in sectional compartments W. I. G of the large iron vault-sealed casements loaded to the muzzle with every possible denomination of bullion; also piled up in tagged bags, within the iron walls were loaded bags of "short coin," which by the abrasion caused by the material wear and tear of constant use, had become depreciated below the standard value and was listed for shipment to the mint for recoining and restoration to its original value.

On the offer of Gen. Ashley to give us one of these bags containing $100,000. North Ridge, to Oliver Fogg formerly of if we would carry it, we tugged vigorously at it, but was compelled to decide that we need not ask for his permit to A. N. Bryant of St. Johnsbury, has pass us and the money bag through the cordon of detectives employed to keep watch and ward against any clandestine "removal of the deposits." We couldn't lift even this little fraction of the huge mass of accumulated specie.

Gen. Ashley also took us through the currency vault, wherein is stored another vast quantity of the nation's reserved wealth. Here is a bewildering immensity of greenbacks. Legions of carefullyfolded packages, each of which is labelled high up on the road to riches. Here we almost wished the gentlemanly custodian would repeat the generous offer he had made to us in the coin vault but he did not. He kindly suggested, however, that perhaps we would like to feel rich for a little while and allowed us to hold a million of dollars in each hand, long enough to say that we knew how persons felt when burthened with two millions of dollars in legal tenders. Notwithstanding any capricious ideas we may have entertained against currency nflation, we passed back the millionthan we had surrendered the paltry $100,000 golden bag, of harder and BALTIMORE, May 2 .- A shocking outrage was perpetrated by two negroes on a negro boy named James H. Woodley. aged 15 years, in Howard county, on the 15 of April. According to the boy's statement, the two men, without provocation, scarred and branded his limbs in a most cruel manner with a red-hot iron and afterward poured spirits of turpentine over his naked body and lower limbs, and set him on fire. In this condition he escaped from his persecutors, and succeeded in extinguishing the flames, though in what manner he is scarcely able io tell. Woodley now lies at the Lombard Street Infirmary in this city, his back and legs roasted to a crisp. His recovery is doubtful. It is reported that the persons who committed the outrage have been arrested.

The power, by avoiding friction, results in giving more force to the water, and consequently more power to the Wheel. The last five years hard trials successfully encountered has practically set at rest the credit and ability of the Wheel to perform all that has been claimed for it. The case and slight expense with which it is set in place, the reliable and permanent character of the power it delivers, the slight loss experienced by back water, together with the cutive case with which clubs, stones, brush or anchor ice can be removed, and the readiness with which the amount of water used can be ascertained. which the amount of water used can be ascertained, makes the Wheel agreeable to all who have to care the tunning of the power; while the actually ascer-tained fact that a portion of the water gives its full and who has had as much experience in water wheel SOUTH BARTON, Vr., Feb. 5, 1873. LUKE BUZZELL, ST. JOHNSBURY, VT. : DEAR SIR—You wished me to say what I think about your Wheel, how I am suited and what it is doing. I purchased my Wheel in July, 1867, so that I have had a pretty good opportunity in the last five years' running to test and find out all the good and bad points in its action. My water is very limited, so much so that my neighbors deemed me wild to think of using you Wheel as at that time it was an experiment on al my heighbors deemed me wiid to think of using you wheel as at that time it was an experiment on al sides, being your first Wheel, and my departure from a breast wheel. Yet when the stream was so low tha mills below me shut down I was able to saw. I notice your Wheels are creeping into those mills. I believe when the water was lowest I sawed and delivered on the care $7.000 feet per month. I can and do saw with feet, but 1,000 is a fair average. In the month of May 1377, I sawed in the working days of ten hours each 226,494 feet. My head is sixteen feet, and have neve

DEALERS IN FLOUR, SHORTS, FRED, RTC. St. Johnsburt, Vr., Jan. 25, 1973. DRAN SIM—We now have in use in our mill five of your Giant Wheels, and with from fifteen to sixteen feet of head. We have ground into fine meal on our corn run sixty bushels of corn per hom. On our provrun, in the same time, we have ground seven ishels of corn into fine meal. On our wheat i we obsaers at corn into the meat. On our wheat ru we have ground 15 bushels of western wheat per hour with a 20-inch wheel. We use a 30-inch wheat for our corn null, and a 40-inch for our provender mill. You must bear in mind that we have to keep our mill in good order to do that amount of grinding. But with hirteen years experience in running grist and flou nills, we think your wheel the best we have ever seen or the power given and water used, and cheerfull
